StarLux Fractional Skin Tightening

The StarLux 500 System uses the LuxDeepIR™ Fractional Infrared Handpiece to deliver skin tightening through soft tissue coagulation.

Palomar
LUXDEEPIR™
FRACTIONAL INFRARED HANDPIECE

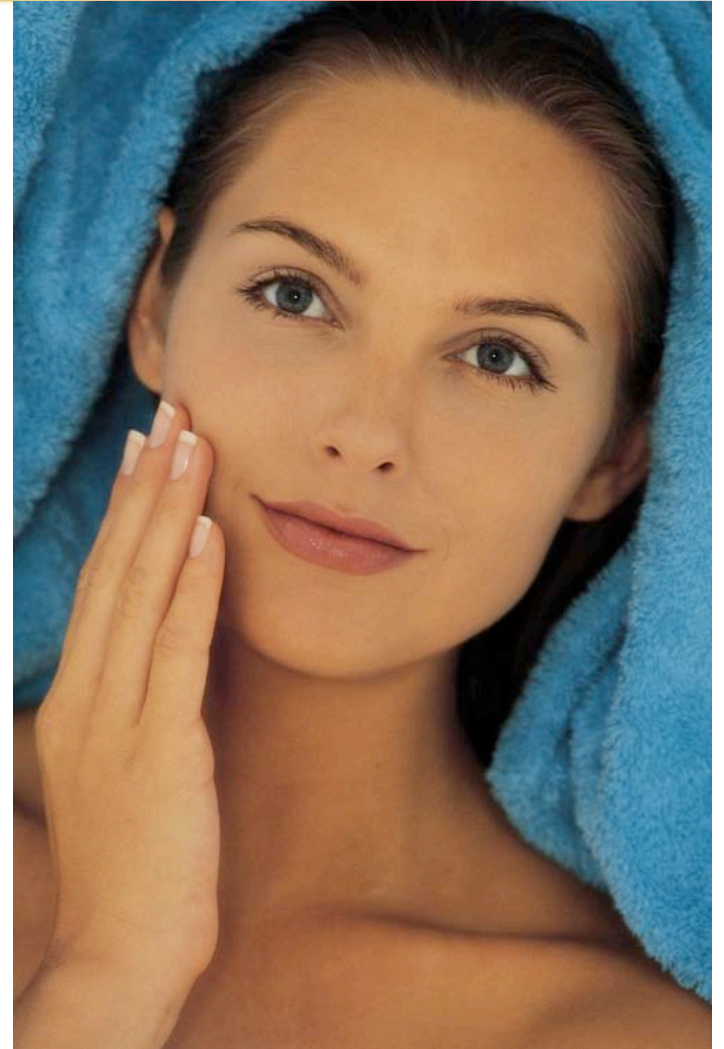

How does it work?

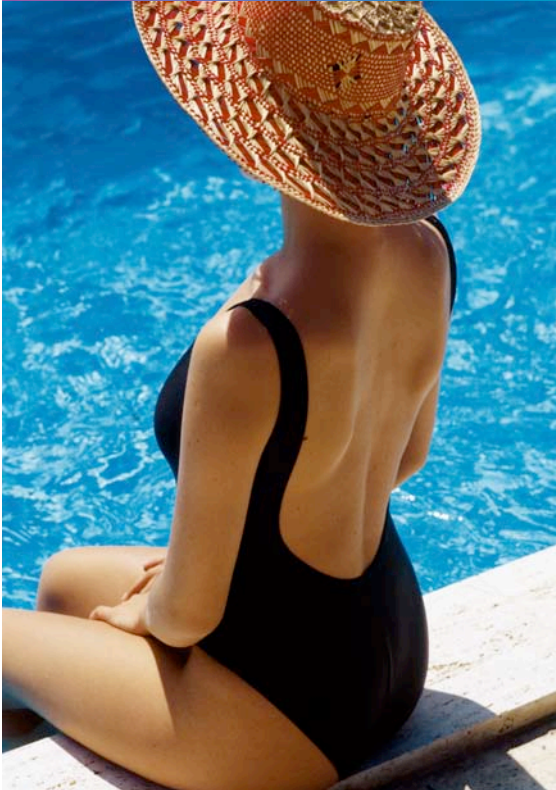

The LuxDeepIR Handpiece delivers infrared light deep into the skin, which causes soft tissue coagulation.

This leads to:

- Generation of new tissue.
- Reducing the appearance of skin laxity.

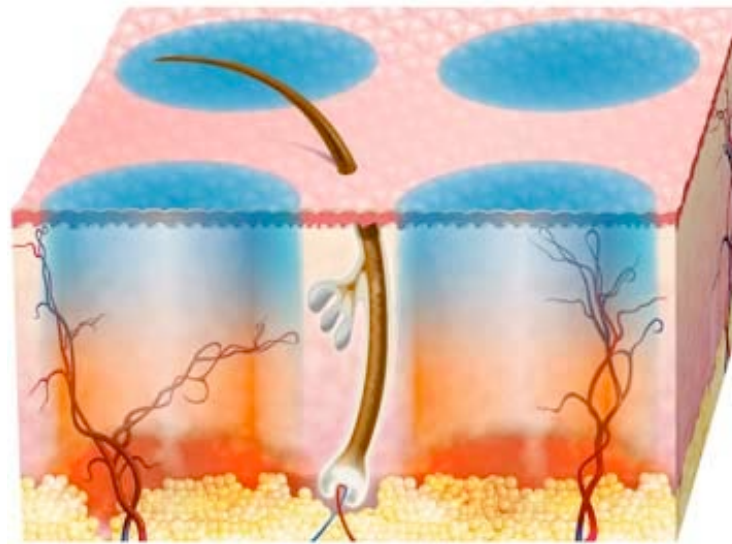

Frequently Asked Questions

What makes it different?

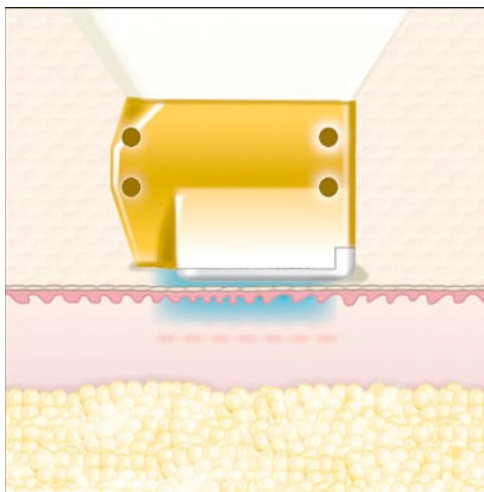

The LuxDeepIR uses a fractional approach to create columns of deep heating, surrounded by intact skin. The heated areas induce the body's natural healing response.

Frequently Asked Questions

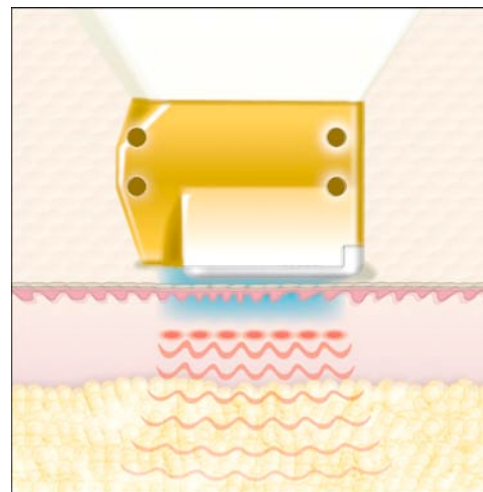

Are these treatments safe?

The LuxDeepIR Handpiece also uses patented 3-stage Contact Cooling. It cools the skin before, during, and after each light pulse to increase comfort and safety during treatment.

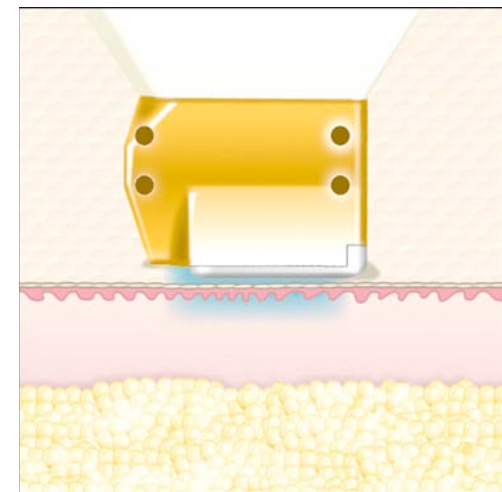

BEFORE

LuxDeepIR Handpiece cools surface of the skin prior to light pulse.

DURING

Contact Sensor allows light pulsing while skin is cooled.

AFTER

Cooling continues after light pulse for safety and comfort.

Frequently Asked Questions

What should I expect after treatment?

- Lingering warmth, tightness, or redness in the treated area, which fades within a few hours of treatment.
- Quick healing process. Generally, you can receive a treatment and go back to work or to other activities without any recovery time.
- A series of treatments at 4-6 week intervals may be required to achieve the desired result of smoother, tighter skin.
- Your treatment provider will be able to give you more information about StarLux treatment and expected results.
